INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the inaugural edition of ChemCentre’s Forensic Science Research Digest.

The aim of this publication is to provide monthly alerts to forensic science practitioners, academics, researchers and other interested stakeholders, of peer reviewed research output from around the world across the breadth of forensic science disciplines.

The listed research is the aggregate of a few hundred publication titles published through Wiley, Taylor and Francis, Springer, Science Direct, Oxford Journals and Ingenta, and includes early view articles. The literature is summarised by discipline, with the ambitious attempt of covering all forensic disciplines. I trust that you will find it of value.
